

IN AND ABOUT WESTERLY

Edward M. Dunn, 82, Formerly of Norwich, Recalls Changes of Sixty Years—Patriotic Exercises on Friday—Local Physicians at State Meeting—Pleasant View Post Office Opens Today.

The two days' observance of the one hundredth anniversary of the Rhode Island Medical Society and the dedication of the library building closed Thursday night with a banquet in Providence. Dr. John Champlin of Westerly was toastmaster and was unanimously voted to that office for next year. The speakers were Congressman George H. Utter and Attorney Samuel H. Davis of Westerly and Rev. William Scott of Euston, Mass. Dr. Champlin introduced Mr. Davis as an erstwhile minister, who nominated the governor of the state. Mr. Davis said that while he had been announced as a sky pilot there was no change in him, excepting that he had been preaching to commence practicing, and that blessed be the man that speaketh briefly, for he shall be asked to speak again.

Mr. Davis' discourse pertained to the main to medical testimony and he said that the trouble with it or the criticism against it was occasioned by the method of securing the experts. His solution was the appointment of experts by the state, to be paid by the state. He would have an expert, when needed, assigned to each case and would have experts appointed, if so desired, to serve for the plaintiff and defendant, and then would have three of them act as a commission, each and all under the pay of the state, with the payment of additional fees treated as bribery.

Rev. Mr. Scott's assigned subject was Pile, but he said he refused to take them, and kept his hearers in almost continuous laughter for 15 minutes.

Mr. Utter spoke briefly on the Cowen Bill. He said that he had not only the opportunity of being the messengers of health, but more often than a minister that of being the messenger of peace, while treating those writhing in pain.

Dr. Alexander B. Briggs of Ashaway was elected president of the association to succeed Dr. F. T. Rogers of Providence.

Local Laconics.
The postoffice at Pleasant View opens today (Saturday).
Starr Barker is home from Alfred University for the summer vacation.
Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of New London were visitors Friday in Westerly.

Woodworth & Cloran have sold to Pasquale Leonetti and Mary Gimmorelli a house in Prospect park.
William A. Wilcox has sold a building lot in the Moore tract to John and Mary Barker of Pawcatuck.

Miss Susan I. Gallup of Norwich is the guest of Miss Ethel Randolph at Pleasant View.
Rev. William F. Williams conducted the funeral service of Sarah, wife of Samuel Cannikan, Friday morning. Burial was at River Bend.

Interfering With God's Plans is the topic of Rev. John O. Dutton's sermon at the Sunday morning service in the Broad street Christian church.

At the First Baptist church Sunday morning Rev. J. W. Ford will preach on "The Resurrection." His evening subject will be "Ideal Manhood."

Three drunks were disciplined in the Third district court Friday. Two were penalized by the usual fine of $2 and costs and the third was sentenced to six months in the state workhouse.

At a special meeting called for the purpose, the stockholders of the Washington Trust company of Westerly voted to increase the capital stock of the institution from $300,000 to $350,000.

The subject of Rev. S. M. Calhoun's sermon for Sunday in the Congregational church will be "Disciplined and Perpetrated Modern Religious Messages Contrasted With the Simplicity of Christ's Messages."

Someone started the malicious story that the Rosty had been barred from the Westerly public library by order of the librarian. As a matter of fact, six copies of the book are in circulation and have been taken out on an average of one hundred times each.

Brief State News
Bridgeport—Measures are to be taken by the board of park commissioners to stop the speeding of motor-cycles in Seaside park.

Meriden—The tennis committee of the Highland Country club announces that the tennis events of June 22 will be doubles instead of singles.

New Britain—Any physicians having children under their care for whom they want milk furnished by the milk station this (Saturday) morning have been requested to notify the nurse.

Torrington—Torrington is on the threshold of an era of prosperity such as perhaps it never enjoyed even in the palm days when it doubled its population every time the census taker made his rounds.
